Perspective

The first international conference on spin-polarized scanning tunneling microscopy (SPSTM) was held at the University of Hamburg, Germany on July 23-26, 2006. The following conference was held at Ohio University, USA on July 15-19, 2008. The meeting focused on the recent advances in sciences related to nano-magnetic measurements. In SPSTM3, instrumental developments, theoretical concepts, and new findings in spin-related scanning tunneling spectroscopy will be main topics .

International Advisory Committee

M. F. Crommie (U. C. at Berkeley, USA)

Y. Hasegawa (U. Tokyo, Japan)

A.J. Heinrich (IBM, USA)

S. Hasegawa (U. Tokyo, Japan)

A.R. Smith (Ohio University, USA)

J.A. Stroscio (NIST, USA)

R. Wiesendanger (U. Hamburg, Germany)

Q.K. Xue (Tsinghua U, China)

A. Yazdani (Princeton University, USA)

Local Organizing Committee

Young Kuk (Seoul National University), Chair

Se-Jong Kahng (Korea University)

Ji-Yong Park (Ajou University)

Wondong Kim (KRISS)

Young Jin Choi (Myongji University)

Chi Jung Kang (Myongji University)

Venue

SPSTM3 is a satellite conference of ICNT 2010 (International Conference on Nanoscience and Technology) which will be held in Beijing, China on August 23-27. For those who plan to attend ICNT 2010, it will be convenient to stop over in Seoul and can also explore dynamic Korean culture . There are several flights a day from Seoul to Beijing.

Invited Speakers

A.J. Heinrich (IBM, USA)

J.A. Stroscio (NIST, USA)

R. Wiesendanger (Hamburg, Germany)

A. Yazdani (Princeton, USA)
